

KERALA CRAFTS

These Ayurvedic knickers are handmade with love by a fair trade women's co-operative in Kerala, India. These gorgeous panties are soft, comfortable, have minimal vpl and are available in Turmeric, Indian Madder and Neem. The therapeutic result occurs when the medicinal properties are absorbed into the skin, boosting wellbeing and immunity and enhancing energy and mood. They are also excellent for skin conditions and allergies.

The cloth is produced using traditional, eco-friendly methods - natural dyes are infused into the yarn itself, meaning the beneficial properties remain even with repeated wear and washing. Kerala Crafts is an award-winning charity pioneering in social development and commitment to liberating women through trade. These beautiful, ethical and healthful undies are brought to you with sacred intention, having a positive effect on the people making them, the people wearing them and on the environment.
